

MUKUTATSHETAU EDUCATION SUMMIT

MEDIA INVITATION

SELF-GOVERNANCE AND EMPOWERMENT AT THE HEART OF THE 2022 EDUCATION SUMMIT

Uashat mak Mani-utenam, October 19, 2022 – The Conseil Innu Takuaikan Uashat mak Mani-utenam (ITUM) and the Education Sector of ITUM invite journalists and media representatives to attend the 2022 Education Summit. The 2022 Education Summit is a unique opportunity for ITUM members and professionals to learn and reflect on the future of education from a perspective of empowerment and self-governance.

The 2022 Education Summit will be an opportunity to:

- Present the results and recommendations of consultations conducted since 2018;
- Explain what a Regional Education Agreement (REA) is;
- Explain the history and work related to the ownership of education over the past 40 years and the current governance system of the Education Sector;
- To allow the public to have a say in the various ITUM partnerships in education (federal government, provincial government, regional organizations, etc.);
- Present what a First Nation Education Act is and three models of Indigenous education systems;
- Establish the objectives of the Education Sector for the upcoming years.

WHAT	2022 Education Summit Kamishta-natshishkatunanut ut Katshishkutamatunanut
WHEN	October 26 to 28, 2022 See the detailed schedule for more details
LOCATION	Salle Teueikan, Mani-utenam https://bit.ly/3s0vCJi
DIFFUSION	Live broadcasting provided by Innuweb Website: www.innuweb.com Facebook: InnuWebTV
NOTE	Journalists and media representatives are requested to obtain prior accreditation in order to have access to all workshops and conferences

Source:

Innu Takuaikan Uashat mak Mani-utenam (ITUM)
Uashat mak Mani-utenam Education Department

For ITUM :

Joé Fontaine
Communications Officer ITUM
418 962-0327

joe.fontaine@itum.qc.ca

Information, accreditation and interview requests:

Éric Duguay
Media Relations Manager
514 377-1980

e.duguay@seize03.ca

Roxane Vézina-Labelle
Media Relations Manager
418 965-2899

rvl@rvlcommunications.ca